

Memor of Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome Control in Taiwan

Center for Disease Control, Department of Health, Executive Yuan, Taiwan

September 2003

CONTENTS

Foreword

1. Collection of Important SARS Virus Transmission Information from Taiwan CDC	1
2. SARS Epidemics in Taiwan	4
3. Electronmicroscopic Features and Genetic Map of SARS Coronavirus	6
4. Lung Pathology of SARS	8
5. Synopsis of Clinical Symptoms and Treatment for SARS	9
6. Comparison of Clinical and Laboratory Profiles between Coronavirus Positive and Negative SARS Probable Cases in Taiwan	11
7. The PCR and Serological Testing of Probable SARS Cases in Taiwan	27
8. Testing for the Virus Load of Probable SARS Cases in Taiwan	32
9. Analysis of the Whole-Length Sequences of Ten Strains of SARS Coronavirus in Taiwan and its Epidemiological Implications	39
10. Analysis of the SARS Inter-Hospital Transmission in Taiwan	43
(1) Associations of the Sporadic SARS outbreaks in Taiwan	44
(2) Epidemiological Investigation of the SARS Outbreak in the Taipei Municipal Hoping Hospital	45
(3) Incident of Clustering Infections of SARS in the Kaohsiung Chang Gung Memorial Hospital	49
(4) Incident of SARS Clustering Infections in the Taipei Municipal Yang-Ming Hospital	51
11. Implementation of Quarantine in Preventing SARS Transmission in Taiwan	54
12. Responsive Policies for Controlling the Coming SARS and Influenza Outbreak in Winter 2003	59
Appendix: SARS Major Timeline	67

Prompt and Professional Disease Control and Everyone's Involvement Ensures People's Well-being

Taiwan CDC URL: <http://www.cdc.gov.tw>

Disease reporting hotline: 0800-024-582

GPN : 1009202897

NT$: 50